

THE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW

Washington Idaho WA Government

NEWS > SPOKANE

100 years ago in Spokane: 'King of Newsboys' is downright fun

Fri., Jan. 11, 2019

surprise to the girls. Walter Smith was chosen president. Bittering vice president and Roy Shaffer secretary and treasurer motto. "The other fellow," was adopted by the class.

THE WORST GROUCH IN SPOKANE MIGHT LAUGH HIMSELF TO DEATH AT THE "NEWSIES" BIG-TIME ACT

"Noodles" Fagan Leads Youngsters at Pan-300 Revel in Joy Act.

Say! Did you hear about The Chronicle's newsboys' carnival at the Pantages theater last night? Well, it is all the talk among the newsies today. Such a time for downright fun most of them never had before in their lives.

There were there, over 300 strong, and they marched into their places like the little gentlemen that they are. One section was reserved for the newsies and five separate sections were set aside for the carriers, each district of the city being seated separately. In charge of the district sections were the district managers, Bert Palmer, S. S. Bowsher, A. E. Brandt, Earl Harvey, Allan K. Moore, and Fred Lawrence as an assistant. The newsies were under the direction of Moo Davis, street circulator.

The newsies assembled at The Chronicle office and paraded the streets before the show.

"Noodles" Leads Fun.

Of course the big feature of the evening was the appearance of "Noodles" Fagan, king of newsies, and his small daughter, Mary. They took the house by storm, after the presentation of the regular performance of the other acts of the bill.

It did not take "Noodles" long to get the young guests warmed up.

WORLD MAY SEE ANOTHER "BILL"

Another Wilhelm is being groomed for the German crown. The junkies are putting in some busy nights and the world may expect soon to have new Prussian problems to solve.

This startling fact is to be disclosed by B. F. Kospath in a series of articles dealing with Germany as he finds it today. The series will be published in the Chronicle, beginning Monday.

Will Give Talks at Commencement

Helen Woodward, valedictorian, and Joe Scheier, salutatorian, will speak on the commencement pro-

Clarence H. Story has returned to duty at Camp Lewis after spending a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Story of Heimier station. He has been stationed at Camp Lewis since last June.

RILEY TO SHOW WEST'S BEAUTY

Will Lecture Three Times Next Week to Audiences in Spokane.

Frank B. Riley, lecturer and humorist, will give his lecture on "Beauties of the Pacific Northwest" three times next week. The first will be at the chamber of commerce luncheon, Tuesday noon.

Tuesday evening he will appear under the auspices of the Spokane Automobile show and will give his travelogue in the lobby of the Davenport hotel. On Wednesday he will repeat the lecture before the hardware men's convention. It is said to WASHINGTON. Weather predictions beginning Monday is weather bureau today Northern Rocky plateau regions. One snows probable. Temp average near normal cold probable.

Pacific states: No nature, unsettled weather occasional rains.

PASSED BAD ADMITS H

Youth Pleads Guilty in Court—C Are Suspected

Ernest Markham, 11, pleaded guilty to a bad check when he was in police court today after arrested by Detectives in at Howard and night. Markham is a passed a bad check Mower & Flynn depts. Markham was arrested by two police officers, in R. D. Flynn, encountered for Markham, who age 19, for 24 hours.

According to the police have issued other warrants and three more young men have been hooked on at police headquarters with Markham's

UNEMPLOYED

"Noodles the Newsboy" was a unqualified hit at the Pantages Theater, where Chronicle newsboys attended for free. (Spokesman-Review archives)

By Jim Kershner
jimkershner@comcast.net

"Noodles" Fagan, the uncrowned King of the Newsboys, entertained 300 Spokane Daily Chronicle newsboys in a free show at the Pantages Theater.